EVENTS WITH ATTITUDE

All events are not created equal. Whether it's for work or pleasure, or even a bit of both, the most memorable of occasions typically take place in the most memorable of locations.

Yes, admittedly we're somewhat biased. But the way we see things few properties can rival Ovolo 1888 Darling Harbour's charm, heritage and location.

If you're seeking an inspired central setting oozing with creativity and character to transform an okay event into something mind-blowingly amazing, well, you've found it.

Say goodbye to non-events. Say hello to Ovolo!

ALL ABOUT OVOLO

Founded in 2002, Ovolo Group is an independent, family-owned hospitality company with a collection of individually designed hotels that offer business and leisure guests the best in effortless living. With award-winning interiors, detail-driven comforts, all-inclusive service and cutting-edge technology, our signature style recently saw Ovolo Woolloomooloo claim the highly coveted guest-voted award for #1 Hotel in Australia in TripAdvisor's Travellers' Choice Awards 2019, with Ovolo 1888 Darling Harbour voted #3.

A proud Hong Kong brand, Ovolo has grown its hotel and restaurant portfolio significantly in Australia in recent years, with two Ovolo Hotels in Hong Kong and six across Sydney, Melbourne, Canberra and Brisbane.

SPACES THAT ARE UNIQUE TO SYDNEY

Fusing art and history, Ovolo 1888 Darling Harbour blends modern design with rich heritage, bringing a new and exciting boutique hotel experience to Sydney. Made with photographers, art fans and design enthusiasts in mind, Ovolo 1888 Darling Harbour is captivating. Each corner of the hotel's heritage-inspired designer interiors is a picture-perfect moment just waiting to be experienced. The hotel offers a prime location for guests to immerse themselves in the vibrant local culture, while a collection of Sydney's most iconic treasures – Darling Harbour, The Rocks, Sydney Fish Market and Chinatown – are just a stone's throw away.

From the late 1800's the Pyrmont/Ultimo area was the primary location for wool trade in Sydney. While there were many industries including flour, sugar, iron, timber and milk in Pyrmont, wool was by far the largest trade. The first Pyrmont Bridge, which opened in 1858 as a timber toll bridge from Market Street, stimulated development in the surrounding areas, making for a lively industrial precinct. Yet as the 20th century approached, the area's population actually declined as houses were knocked down to make way for the huge land-hungry woolstore buildings which numbered roughly 20.

THE VIBE

Mister Percy is Darling Harbour's dedicated Mediterranean-style wine bar and kitchen. Named after Percy Ewart, a former wool classer at the original woolstore who also made his mark (literally) by etching his name in the sandstone building, Mister Percy offers cuisine and beverages inspired by the arc of countries surrounding the Mediterranean.

Head Chef Luca Guiotto (ex-A Tavola, Catalina) has created a coastal European menu showcasing Italian flavours and techniques, anchored by seasonal and local produce.

Designed to be enjoyed with a glass in hand (or quartino), the menu includes a selection of skewered snacks or pinchos, small and larger share-style dishes and Australian artisanal cheeses.

ALL-INCLUSIVE SPACES

Ovolo 1888 Darling Harbour offers private events with character. From work to play - off-site meetings, workshops and think tanks to intimate soirees, cocktail parties and private dining, choose from one of our Day Delegate and Function Packages, or let us custom-plan a bespoke event just for you. Either way, you won't be disappointed.

Mister Percy is Darling Harbour's neighbourhood wine bar.

Inspired by the heart of Italy, the wine list is shared by the arc of countries surrounding the Mediterranean and expertly curated by Shun Eto. Mister Percy's inspired wine varietals don't discriminate and always hit the mark. Relax in eclectic vintage-style lounges with glass in hand, quartino or bottle at the ready, and satiate your hunger with a menu designed to share; reminiscent of classic coastal Italian flavours.

Whatever you're in for, it will be accompanied by friendly service with a touch of old-school cheek. Finding residence in Sydney's historic wool store, Ovolo 1888 Darling Harbour, Mister Percy is the talk of the neighbourhood for all the right reasons.
